

Central's Coronavirus Response

Central Exteriors has been closely monitoring all of the new information with respect to the Coronavirus outbreak of 2020. We are 100% committed to following the guidance from the CDC that can be found at <https://www.cdc.gov/coronavirus/2019-ncov/community/guidance-business-response.html>.

All of our employees have been told to stay home or reschedule appointments if they are sick or not feeling well. We have increased our hand washing and office sterilization procedures.

In 2019 we had a large effort to convert to a paperless office. This will help us navigate these next few weeks as all of our employees are able to get more work done remotely.

For future exterior projects, we are happy to meet you at your home, while still practicing social distance, but we are also flexible enough to visit your home without anyone being there.

We are also happy to speak on the phone, through Facetime, or even screen share if you want us to walk you through recommended products. Fortunately, technology gives us options that we wouldn't have had available even 10 years ago.

Right now, our product manufacturer's are telling us that there are no supply chain issues and availability of materials should be business as usual. Our work crews are also abiding by the CDC's recommendations and can complete most jobs without even going into your home.

If you have any questions about an ongoing or upcoming project, please don't hesitate to call us at 301-881-2424 or email us.

Sincerely,

Terry Greenberg
President Central Exteriors
